LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

The U.S. equity market rose to record levels in the third quarter of 2017. The S&P 500 gained 4.5% for the quarter, bringing its year-to-date return to 14.2%. Adams Diversified Equity Fund exceeded the returns of the S&P 500 over both horizons, increasing 4.9% and 17.4%, respectively.

For the first time since 2011, the S&P 500 posted two consecutive quarters of double-digit earnings growth in the first half of 2017. The economy grew 3.1% in the second quarter, an acceleration from the 1.2% growth in the first quarter, driven by strong consumer spending. The combination of strong earnings growth and positive economic data supported the market's move higher in the third quarter. Although inflation levels remained low, the Fed signaled it expects to continue to gradually raise rates and would begin unwinding its $4.5 trillion balance sheet this year, demonstrating conviction in the strength of the economy.

The market hit record highs during the quarter despite concerns over several geopolitical issues, including rising tensions between the U.S. and North Korea, talk of potential trade limitations on Chinese goods, and terrorist attacks in Spain and London. In addition, two major hurricanes struck the U.S., causing significant damage to parts of Texas, Florida, and Puerto Rico.

The strongest contributors to the Fund's outperformance during the quarter were Materials and Industrials, increasing 16.9% and 8.1%, respectively. Year-to-date, Technology and Industrials were the strongest sectors, advancing 33.2% and 21.3%, respectively.

Materials was a standout in the third quarter led by LyondellBasell, a diversified chemical company. LyondellBasell benefited from strong margins in its core olefins and polyolefins business, which are essential components in the production of plastics. We initiated a position in Albemarle during the quarter. Albemarle is one of the best-positioned global producers of lithium, which is used in lithium-ion batteries. The market for lithium is growing rapidly as a result of increased demand for electric vehicles. Over the long term, we view the potential of power storage growth as a significant opportunity for the company.

LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS (CONTINUED)

The Fund benefited from strong stock selection in the Industrials sector. The top performer for the quarter was Boeing, which increased 29.3% and 67.0% year-to-date. Strong global demand for aircraft, combined with Boeing's exposure to the defense industry, resulted in significant operating leverage and cash-flow growth at the company. Machinery stocks also generated strong returns for the Fund, driven by Fortive and Parker-Hannifin. Fortive manufactures instrumentation products and provides industrial manufacturing solutions to a variety of end-markets. It is a consolidation story that is exceeding earnings expectations and executing upon plans to utilize free cash flow for growth through acquisitions. Parker-Hannifin is an industrial manufacturer focused on motion and control technologies. The company is benefiting from a recovery in industrial manufacturing and realizing better-than-expected synergies from its acquisition of filtration product manufacturer Clarcor.

During the quarter, the Financials sector was challenged, particularly stocks in the insurance industry. We exited our position in American International Group (AIG) as our original investment thesis on the company had changed. The new management team is less focused on returning capital to shareholders, which we had viewed as critical to the AIG opportunity. We chose to increase our exposure to regional banks and initiated a position in Signature Bank, based in New York City. The stock had come under pressure recently due to issues with the value of its Taxi medallion loan book and competition within its core market. This created a compelling valuation for a company with a unique business model that generates higher returns and growth rates relative to its peers.

In the Technology sector, our holdings in Facebook and Lam Research continued to benefit the portfolio. Both companies generated better-than-expected earnings, which led to significant share-price appreciation. During the quarter, we initiated a position in Cognizant Technology Solutions, an information technology consulting and outsourcing company. Cognizant struggled in 2016 due to spending reductions in two of its largest end-markets, Financial Services and Health Care. With expectations for a recovery in these markets, combined with management's emphasis on enhancing shareholder returns through margin expansion and share repurchases, we expect the company to report strong results.

The stock market has performed well thus far in 2017 despite ongoing gridlock in Washington delaying promises for health care legislation, tax reform, and infrastructure spending. There is still the possibility that Congress will pass tax reform legislation before the end of the year but, given its recent track record, it is anything but certain. Geopolitical issues will likely continue to create potential headwinds for stocks as well. In the face of this, we remain focused on identifying quality companies that are executing at the highest levels and are trading at attractive valuations.

LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS (CONTINUED)

The shares were repurchased at an average price of $14.05 and a weighted average discount to NAV of 15.3%, resulting in a $0.02 increase to NAV per share.

Mark E. Stoeckle
